

“I TELL YOUR BRAND STORY”

Ibidunni Damilola is a visual storyteller creating an immersive experience in the Fashion industry alongside other industries by expressing the cores of imagery through unaltered narratives and intimate visuals.

He is founder of Ibidunni Damilola Studios, a media production company home to Nuptial Symphony, a visual experience capturing the core essence of a Wedding, Glam X, a short form audio-visual exclusive experience set up which centres around fashion and the theme of the event and Explore and Film, a cinematic experience crafting a seamless narrative surrounding Muses and Destinations.

From billboards to runways, his works have been showcased globally, notably his influential appearance in Nokia's 2020 Global campaign, "48 Hours of Change" and his directorial debut for Pepper Row's Aw 22 Fashion Film, "Custodians Of The Culture" at the London Fashion Week 2021.
